THE SENATE RE-ELECTS MR. INGALLS AS PRESIDENT PRO TEM.

A Canena of the Democratic Senators-A Interesting Constitutional Point Dis-

WASHINGTON, March 7.-The Vice-President was not present at the opening of this norming's session of the Senate, and the Secretary. Mr. Cook, read a note from Mr. Morton stating that he would be absent from to-day's session. Thereupon Mr. Sherman offered a resolution that during the absence of the Vice-President, Mr. Ingalis should be President of the Senate pro tempore. An amendment was offered by Mr. Harris, substituting the name of Mr. Voorhees for that of Mr. Ingalis. The amendment was rejected-year 27, nays 29, thereupon entered upon the duties of presidfirst been administered to him by Mr. Sherman, and it was ordered that the President of the United States be notified of Mr. Ingalis's election. The Senate then adjourned till Monday. After adjournment the Democratic members held a caucus, at which Messrs. Gorman. Cockrell, Voorhees, Harris, Bansom, Walthall, and Blackburn were appointed a committee to confer with the Republican caucus committee on arrangement of committees, and they will Gorman was elected Chairman of the caucus, in place of Senator Harris, who has filled the in place of Senator Harris, who has filled the place for some time.

There was a sentiment expressed in the caucus favorable to the abolishing of certain committees that have practically no duties to perform. It was the opinion that since a clerk is provided every Senator chairmanships are unnecessary, if not useless, unless there are rooms for the accommodation of the committees, which is not now the case. Senator Aldrich, Chairman of the Committee on Rules, and Architect Clark will get together as soon as possible for the purpose of devising some rearrangement of space, by which every committee will have a room, if possible. The Republican caucus will meet on Saturday afternoon or Monday morning to adopt the report of the committee to arrange committees so that they may be elected at the session on Monday.

When the Senate meets on Monday the committee intrusted with the work of rearranging the standing and select committees of the body will probably be ready to report. By that time also, Gen. Harrison will no doubt be ready to communicate with the Senate in writing.

which means that he will send in the nominations of some Foreign Ministers. Assistant Secretaries of the Departments, &c. It has leaked out to-day that there was a discussion in the Republican caucus yesterday of a subject which has not yet been made nuble. It was given out after the caucus adjourned that the advisability of continuing the debate on the Hour Southern outrage resolution the sections of the officials were the questions that occupied the time during the bour and held that the caucus was in session. The truth is that none of these things were at all prominent in the discussion. It is a constitutional point that is now giving concern to the able Benators. They talked about it quite fully in caucus, but came to no conclusion. The point is this: Can the Benate in the absence/of the Vice-President elect a President pro tem. for a term extending beyond the time of the return of the Vice-President; The great constitutional lawyers of the Republican side say no. In the caucus this was the only question discussed at any length. Measrs. Edmands and Hoar made extended arguments to prove that under the Constitution the Senate on provent and the most the argument of the Wice-President pro tem. only for such times as the Vice-President may be absent. No Benutors cared to combat. the argument of the Work of the was a such as a constitution that the argument of the Work of the was haally disposed of temporarily by referring it to the Committee on Privileges and Elections when it shall be appointed. In the mean time the hold-over members of the committee will look into the matter, and by the time the Benate mets on Monday they will be able to give an onlaion as to whether Mr. Ingalls shall be the permanent President pro tempore or whether he must be reflected each time the Benate mets on Monday they will be able to give an onlaion as to whether Mr. Ingalls shall be the permanent President pro tempore of the condition of an ewe sergeant-st-Arms did not take place, and it is extremely unlikely that any effort will b

Capt. George E. Lemon, chairman of the Finance Committee of the inaugural ceremonies, has just completed his report. It is as follows: Receipts from sale of ball tickets. $58,220; from supper, $3.886. There were 15,-$58,220; from supper, $3,886. There were 15,807 persons who attended the promenade concerts on the night following the ball, and the committee realized from this source $7,903,50. Extra sourenirs were sold to the amount of $1,436,J0, which, with the guarantee fund of $50,100 paid in previous to the ball, makes the total receipts from the ball $121,946. Adding thereto the amount received from the sale of privileges, $3,500, swells the grand total of receipts to $125,046.

Col. John M. Wilson of the Engineer Corns has been placed in charge of the work on the Washington squeduct extension, relieving Major G. J. Lydecker, who will be tried by court martial on the 25th inst. for neglect of duty in connection with this improvement. This assignment of Gol. Wilson is in addition to his present duties in charge of the Washington Monument, the Gettysburg monument, and the public buildings and grounds in the District of Columbia. In this latter capacity he sets as master of ceremonies at the White House receptions. He is also a member of the Light House Board.

Representative Laird of Nebraska, who was very ill during the whole of the last session of Congress, has reached Washington much im-proved in health, although he has not entirely recovered.

Educational Qualification for Voters in North Carolina. RALEIGH, March 7 .- The Legislature today passed a bill providing for an election law much similar to the famous South Carolina law, in that it has the educational qualification. The bill provides that all boxes shall be labelled and that voters shall approach the inhelled and that voters shall approach the polls one at a time and place their several ballots in the proper boxes. The bill will seriously affect the liliterate negro element in the State and will make Democratic majority assured. The Democratic majority in the State was greatly reduced in the recent campaign, and the Democrate, who have a good majority in the present Legislature, passed the bill, which makes their supremacy certain for the future. Several negroes in the Legislature made bitter and incendiary speeches on the bill, saying that the colored people of the State would not submit to the law, and that the whites would be sorry for having passed it.

Our Boodlers in Canada Frightened. OTTAWA, Ont., March 7 .- John C. Eno and Boodler Keenan are expected here to do some lobbying against the Weldon Extradition bill in behalf of the scores of fugitives who are now making Canada a refuge from United States justice. There will be some opposition to the retreactive feature of the bill, although it will hardly be strong enough to secompile its object. It is expected the blowill as through all right. GEN. SIMON CAMEBON.

To-day Will Be the Ninetieth Anniversar;

HARRIBBURG, March 7 .- To-morrow will be the ninetleth anniversary of the birth of Gen. Simon Cameron. A Sun correspondent visited him to-day at the old mansion on South Front street, which John Harris, the founder of Harrisburg, occupied in 1785. The venerable statesman was sitting at a window, through which the bright sun was streaming. reading a magazine article. He looked up as the newspaper man entered the library and gave the visitor a cordial greeting. He had finished reading, but a short time before he received several letters of congratulation and good wishes from old friends in distant parts finished reading, but a short time before he received several letters of congratulation and good wishes from old friends in distant parts of the country. One letter was from his old friend. Samuel Sheeh of Columbia, and was remarkable for its beautiful penmanship. Mr. Shoch is in his 93d year, and he and Gen. Cameron have been friends since boybood.

Gen. Cameron is fond of talking about his old boyhood companion, and has some interesting reminiscences of Mr. Shoch. They first met when Gen. Cameron came to Harrisburg in 1817, and soon became intimately acquainted. Young Shoch was then a student at law in the office of the Hon. Amos Ellmaker, Attorney-General. At the age of 16 or 17 he enlisted in the war of 1812 as a member of the Harrisburg Artillery, a company formed within twenty-four hours after the British had burned the Capitol at Washington. Co. Shoch held several responsible positions during his long and useful life, and took an active and influential part in politics. He was one of the men who was active in securing the nomination of the grand-father of President Harrison. In 1880 Col. Shoch went to Columbia having been elected cashler of the Columbia shank and Bridge Company, and has been connected with the institution ever since. He is now President of the bank, and daily attends to the duties of his position. Like Gen. Cameron, he bigs fair to remain among us at least another decade.

Gen. Cameron says his old friend was always full of wit and humor and a popular favorite of the bank, and drift, and Gen. Cameron, de high white hat, a green coat, a flowered waist-coat, and white and humor and a popular favorite of the ladies. He was a sign of feebleness, either physical or montal. He spoke of his earlier struggles, his apprentice days in the printing office, the growth of the country, and current political and social matters as

NORTH RIVER NAVIGATION.

Preparations for the Opening of the Season as Soon as the Ice is Out.

North River navigation is beginning ear lier this year than usual, and if the present mild weather continues, the big Albany boats Drew and Dean Richmond may begin running before the first of April. "They are both ready to start on three day's notice." said President W. W. Everett yesterday. "but I haven't much faith in the weather at this time of year, and we shall not run our boats till the river is entirely clear of ice all the way to Albany." Their first trip last year was made on April 9. On both sides of the Harrison street pler there is plenty of activity among the steamboat men whose boats run to points below Albany. On the south side of the pier the carpenters and painters are working at a lively rate on Capt. B. M. Freligh's steamer Ansonia. Passengers for Rhinebeck, Barrytown. Tivoli, Ulster Lauding, and Saugerties will hardly know the old craft when she makes her first trip on March 16 from the Franklin street pier, for she looks like a modern boat with her new quarterdeck, frescoed cabin, and staterooms with their new carpets and furniture. Just ahead of her, also painting, lies the propeller Fanny Woodall, Capt. George Morton will start her for Feckskill next Tuesday. She started in 1888 on March 29, and two years ago on the 17th. "We made our first trip to Nyack, Hastings, Dobbs Ferry, and Haverstraw last year on March 19, said Skipper Stetson of the propeller Raieigh." but we expect to beat that record by starting on Tuesday next."

Capt. Carpenier of the steamer Daniel S. Miller opened he season on Wednesday by making atrip to Poughkeepsle, and the Newburgh of Cornell's line by a trip to Newburgh.
Capt. Remper's steamer, the James W. Baldwin and the Thomas McManus will not resume their routes for ten days or two weeks.
Capt. Cooper of the John L. Hasbrouck says he will start for Poughkeepsle with all the freight he can get on Tuesday.
Up at the foot of Thirty-eighth street, North River, the City of Kingston is in the painters' hands, and Capt. Curran is getting her ready for her first trip to Cornwall. Kingston, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, and Kondout. She will begin to run on this route with the Baldwin in about two weeks.

The propeller A. Brearley, Capt. Samuel Requa, will make her first trip of the season to Tarrytown on Monday.
"We shall not think of starting the Albany and New York till May 28," said the agent of the Albany Day Line. "Our trade is with tourists, and we shall run from that date till Oct. 12." The Albany lies at the foot of West Twenty-seventh street, North River.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Taming of the Shrew" Renewed. While Ada Rehan remains in the Daly company there is always one play in particular at Daly's hand with which to replace a failure with a success. "An International Match" proved too inane to be amusingly enlivened, and its duration was necessarily much shorter than had been calculated on. A more animated play is being made ready as rapidly as possible. To fill the time between these two pieces "The Taming of the Shrew" was revived at Daly's Theatre last evening. Miss Rehan repeated her familiarly fine performance of compels unanimous admiration. A majority of New Yorkers like her impersonations of the fashionable modern girl, but there is a minority who find them forced and artificial. Nearly everybody who witnesses her essays at serious sentimentality praises them, but once in a while they are condemned. Her versatility is by no means flawless. But as the termagant beauty in "The Taming of the Shrew" she delights entire audiences. Her acting on this occasion was particularly spirited and captivating. The cast of the previous representations of the comedy was renewed with very slight changes. The most observable of these was a deterioration. Virginia Dreher had before been a sweet, winsome, and not unekliful Bianca. In her place was Sara Chalmers, a hovice, who cannot walk or talk without disclosing at every step and word her newness to the stage. It seemed a cruelty to her to set such a task for her to full in, and it was certainly an affliction to those who had to see and hear her. The other parts were excellently played, the rich scenery and contumes were very sightly, and the production was a repetition of the former care, taste, and acceptability.

Edison's Patents in Canada Declared Null. OTTAWA, March 7 .- The incandescent electric lighting patent held by the Edison Electric Light Company has been declared null and void in Canada on the ground of failure to comply with the patent regulations, which provide ply with the patent regulations, which provide that the article thus patented must be manuscured in Canada within one year from the issue of the patent, and the importation of the same patent from the United States must cease within two years. This is the decision reached in the famous patent suit by Richard Pope. Commissioner of Patents, and his decision will be annotunced to-morrow. The appellants were the United States Electric Lighting and the Westinghouse Electric Companies, represented in Canada by Aheara & Soper of Ottawa, and the Boyal Electric Company of Montreal.

Pleuro-pacumonia in Orange County. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., March 7 .- The second utbreak of pleuro-pneumonts has just occurred among Orange county dairies in the vicinity of Highland Mills. The first outbreak, which occurred on Nov. 11 last, compelled the slaughter of twelve herds of cattle, besides causing other losses and damage to dairymen, before the plagte was fairly checked. The malady is now introduced here again by a car load of milk cows bought by a drover at the Buffalo stock yards, and brought to Highland Mills and sold out among seven or eight dairymen. Every one of these imported cows has now developed the disease. Inspectors of the United States Busses of Animal Industry are taking measures for erdirpating the malady. curred on Nov. 11 last, compelled the slaughter

AN ATTACK ON 25 LAWYERS.

THE MANHATTAN ELEVATED THEM ALL INDICTED,

Alleging that They Have Got Up Hundreds of Damage Sutta Against the Company Under Contrart With Property Owners. The Grand Jury, on application of Col. Hain and counsel, have this week been considering whether indictments shall be found against certain lawyers who, it is alleged, have solicited and helped maintain suits against the elevated road from persons who might have claims for damages to property. "Champerty and maintenance" is the alleged offence. and it is very seidom that a Grand Jury is called to find indictments for it. A lawyer convicted of it may be disbarred.

Hundreds of cases have been brought against the Manhattan Elevated Rairoad for damage o private property, and it is alleged that inducements have been held out to property owners to bring suits who otherwise would not have done so. Recently Col. Hain visited Inspector Byrnes and laid the matter before him.

spector Byrnes and laid the matter before him. The Inspector referred him to the District Attorney's office, and affidavits were drawn against twenty-five lawyers.

Yesterday fifty property cyners were summoned before the Grand Jury, and were instructed to bring any contracts they had by which they agreed to bring suit, the lawyers agreeing to take one-half or one-third of the proceeds if the suit should be wen.

Eight of these property owners were clients of Leo C. Dessar of 261 Broadway, formerly Civil Justice. Lawyer Dessar appeared before Juige Gildersleeve with Lawyer Howe. Mr. Howe said:

Jurigo Chicersleeve with Lawyer flowe. Mr. Howe smid:

Lawyers have a right to take a contingent fea. That has been extiled by a decision of Judge Van Hoesen. My client is a prominent lawyer and a man of character and ability. He comes before you for simple justice. He has sued the Manhattan Elevated Railroad for damages and has obtained judgments and now comes an attempt by the Manhattan Elevated Railroad to prevent citizens from bringing suits for damages axainst that corporation for civil damages. It is an effort to use these courts as a lever.

The Judges of these courts are accustomed to instruct the Grand Jury not to entertain cases where malice lies at the back of a charge before them, and accused persons who are likely to absoond may be indicted by the Grand Jury in the first instance majeriate in the drait instance. I ask that your flouor so instruct the Grand Jury not we have the control of the court of t

Jury now.

Judge Gildersleeve replied that he would send for the foreman, Charles H. Scott, and tell him to inform the Grand Jury that he would instruct them on the matter to-day. Col. Follows had requested him so to instruct them, but he had unaccountably forgotten to do so. The statute says:

No attorney shall advance any valuable consideration to any person as the inducement of the placing or in consideration of having placed in the hands of the attorney, counsellor, or andictor, or any other, person, any debt, demand, or thing for the purpose of bringing an action thereon.

TO CONSOLIDATE TWO JERSEY TOWNS. Democrats Anxious to Make a City of Har-

TRENTON, March 7 .- It is likely that the oill to consolidate the towns of Harrison and Kearney, which are located opposite Newark and belong to Hudson county, will be adopted as a caucus measure by the Democrats. The joint Democratic committee gave a public bearing on the bill to-day. President Rice of the Harrison Common Council and other officlais and taxpayers spoke in favor of the bill. They said that the towns together would make a flourishing city, whose real estate would receive an upward impetus as soon as the bill passed. Moreover, the new city would be safely Democratic for many years. Edward T. MoDonald and several other influential men from Harrison opposed the bill.

The House killed the bill to prohibit the sale of cigarettes to minors, and made the Australian election system measure a special order for next Tuesday forenoon. Speaker Hudspeth introduced bills this afternoon making the salary of Poor Overseers in first-class cities $1.600. fixing the term of Corporation Attorneys at three years, and making the salary of the Jersey City Chief of Police $2.500, and that of the Captain of police in the same city $2.000. They said that the towns together would make

The Suspended Iron Works.

PHILADELPHIA, March 7 .- A meeting of the creditors of the Reading Iron Works was eld at the office of the company in this city this afternoon. George F. Baer, a director of the company and also its counsel, read a statement of the financial condition of the corporation, which showed the total liabilities to be 41 997 783 32 and assets $2.439.595.09. A committee of three was appointed to conduct the mills temporarily. On this committee the mills temporarily. On this committee the company and the creditors were represented, the former by the appointment of Director Simon Seyfert, and the latter by Mr. F. Patterson, a heavy creditor. F. W. Swink, the general manager of the works at Beading, was the other member chosen. The committee will continue in control for the time being, and in the mean time a careful appraisement of the assets will be made. For this purpose a second committee of live was named, and upon this the creditors and the company were represented. Another committee will go to work at once and prepare a plan of reorganization, and report at a meeting to be held Thursday next, if possible, or if not then at a meeting the date for which will then be agreed upon.

A statement of the assets and liabilities of the company is as follows: Total assets, $2.429.595; total liabilities, $1.927.783, leaving a balance of assets of $501.812. This does not take into account the capital stock, which amounts to $1.050,000. Adding this to the liability account would leave an apparant deficit of $548.188. The report of the committee appointed to make an appraisement may change somewhat the figures in the asset column, as those given are taken from the books of the company, which are based on the original cost price. mills temporarily. On this committee the

Lynchers Convicted in South Carolina. CHARLESTON, March 7 .- For the first time n the history of South Carolina two lynchers have been convicted in the courts. At Pickens yesterday Bolton, Heyward, and Williams, three colored men charged with murder, were found guilty with a recommendation to mercy. Three others charged with the same offence were acquitted. The case is the first on record in the history of this State of negroes lynching white man. There have been scores of cases of white men lynching negroes, but none have ever been brought to trial. The man who was lynched was a half-witted white mountaineer, and he was accused of assaulting a young negro girl. The case excited considerable interest at the time, and a collection was taken up, principally among white people, to raise a fund to defend the lynchers, who are all negroes. Several white lawyers volunteered to defend the prisoners. A strong petition will be presented to the Governor for the full pardon of the convicted men. In the famous Edgoffeld-Culbreth case, where upward of thirty white men were charged with murdering an inoffensive white man, an effort was made to bring the lynchers to trial, but, although they were arrested and several attempts made to bring them to justice, they all got free. of white men lynching negroes, but none have Decision Against an Insurance Association. NEWBURGH, March 7 .- Judge Barnard has decided against the Masonic Guilds Association of New York in the case of Emmet Myers of Port Jervis, who sued for $1,600 on a $3,000 policy issued to Isaac Myers, Emmet being the beneficiary. The decision is considered ing the beneficiary. The decision is considered of great importance to all holders of policies on the mutual assessment plan. The association paid $1,400 after the death of Myers in 1884, and claimed that the funds of the concern were not sufficient to liquidate the balance of the policy, although the sworn statement for 1884 to the State Insurance Department showed a surplus of about $5,000. The company pleaded that the assessment was not enough to pay the full amount. The Court says they must pay out of the surplus sworn to that year, and directs that the claim be paid in full.

Defaulter Moore Back from Caunda. CHICAGO, March 6 .- Joseph A. Moore, the Indianapolis insurance agent who embezzled $500,000 and fled to Canada. Is reported to have spent to-day in Chicago. An old acquaintance says he recognized him on his arrival here at the Grand Trunk depot, and to-night at the same place when departing. The friend says Moore dealed his identity when reaching Chi-cago, but admitted it as he was leaving.

The Fight in West Virginia,

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 7.-The initial sten was taken in the Supreme Court to-day by Gen. Goff's attorneys suing out a writ of mandamus against Gov. Wilson to compel him to surrender the office of Governor to Gen. Goff. The case is to come up to-morrow for argument. All parties to the suit have agreed that the matters in controversy may be deter-mined without further process.

The special meeting of the Executive Committee of the Business Men's Republican Association to progress in the matter of getting a headquarter that will vie with Tammanya in the matter of organization, also, the organization of the new machine are taking Tammany as a guide and they bed certain that by a other fall they will be in a position to do effective work in Steam and local position.

MARINO'S THE BOSS BOOTBLACK. An Italian has Bought the Monopoly of

Most of the Ferry Lines. The Italians have come into possession of the bootblacking business on nearly all the ferry lines. Speaking of this Italian invasion. General Superintendent Frank Gannon of the Staten Island Rapid Transit Company said yesterday to a reporter of THE SUN:
"We farm out the bootblacking privilege,

just as we do the music privilege. We are now getting bids from the musicians and will make the award on March 11, and for the bootblacking on April 27. Frank Marino is the Italian who has the bootblacking privilege this year." Francis H. Bergen, Secretary of the New York and South Brooklyn Ferry, said: We farm out our beothjack privilege. Marino had ours last year. He had two Italians to work for him, and they became his competitors for this year and succeeded in getting the privi-lege.

tor film, and they became his competions for this year and succeeded in getting the privilege."

Superintendent Brownson of the Central Railroad of New Jersey said: "An Italian named Marino has our bootblacking privilege. He got it by competition, being the lighest bidder."

The superintendents of the Peansylvania and Eric ferries said that they had sold their bootblacking privilege to an Italian named Marino. They did not select him, and did not know whether he was a monopolist or not. They said they did not care. All they asked was that he should serve his customers with as little annoyance to the company as posseible. They had been overrun with Italians trying to get the privilege. One Italian haunted the office and stuck wads of greenbacks in the faces of the officers, saying that he was willing to pay handsomely for the privilege. He was followed by others, and for the sake of peace the company determined to farm the privilege out.

Marino has all the long ferries on the East River. He did have a bootblacking establishment at the long lane from the Brooklyn elevated road to the bridge, but it did not pay.

TO IMPROVE THE WATER FRONT.

treet and New Piers Along the North River

At the meeting of the Chamber of Comnerce yesterday afternoon President Edwin A. Post of the Dock Department explained the department's plans for improving the North River front. These plans will prevent the use of the site between Bank and West Eleventh streets for the new Appraiser's stores, as had been contemplated. The marginal street along the North River front is to be 250 feet wide, and that along the East River will be from 200 to that along the East River will be from 200 to 150 feet wide, with piers 500 feet long. At present the bulk of the trade of the North River is carried on between the Battery and Fifty-eighth street, and methods are now being sought to utilize the river front between Seventy-second street and Manhattanville, where now access is cut off by the buffs and the park. The New York Central Hallroad occupies all the pier room between Fifty-eighth and Seventy-second streets. Below Fifty-eighth artreet there are to be Nyplers, 12 fewer than at present; 41 have already been built. piers, 12 fewer than at present; 41 have already been built.

The department proposes to extend West street from West Tenth to West Twenty-third street, excepting the blocks upon which the new market stands. In this space will be built twenty-three new piers. The total cost is estimated at $8,861,000. Mr. Post says the wharfage room would be increased by 25 per cent, and the city would derive a net income of $737,000, or over 84 per cent, on the investment. In regard to the district between West Eleventh and West Twenty-third streets, the new plans conflict with the plans adopted in 1871, and a bill is now before the Legislature authorizing the change.

The department has eight or ten applications for piers on hand, but it cannot grant them, having none left to lease.

Lenten Innovations in a Catholic Church. The Catholic Church of St. Paul the Apostle, at Fifty-ninth street and Ninth avenue, has established some interesting Lenten innovations. One is a "Bacred Thirst Society" for the suppression of intemperance. The members are enjoined to mortify themselves, especially by abstaining during the seven fast weeks, beginning on March 6, from the use of all intexicating drinks. One mass is to be said every Friday for the object of the association and the spiritual and temporal welfare of all who comply with the sacrificial conditions.

Another innovation is an arrangement of the Lenien services allowing the congregation to join in the singing. An organ has been placed in the body of the church, and pamphlets containing hymns of thanksgiving, conquest, supplication, and humiliation have been distributed among the people. the suppression of intemperance. American Art Exhibit. WASHINGTON, March 7 .- A large and fashionable assemblage, including Vice-Prestdent Morton and a number of Senators, attended the opening reception of the American art exhibit to-night at the elegant residence recently purchased by Mr. Morton from Alex. Graham Bell. The exhibit filled eight of the spacious rooms of the house and showed a gratifying growth in American art. There are 151 pictures hung on the walls, of an estimated value of $125,000. Palms, ferns, and statuary placed about the house with discriminating taste enhanced the beauty of the exhibition. Among the artists represented are William Verplanck Birney, George Inness, Frank D. Millet, Thomas Meran. Albert Ryder, F. K. M. Rehn, and F. S. Church. Some of the water celor artists represented are John La Forge, William M. Chase, C. Y. Turner, and T. C. Chapman. There is also a fine collection of etchings. The exhibit will last about ten days, and is given for the benefit of the Garfield Memorial Hospital. Graham Bell. The exhibit filled eight of the press that leaves at 10 o'clock this morning.

President Harrison heard that Mr. Platt was going through the capital, and invited him to come and see him. The New Yorker, whose friends think he has been most hardly troated by the President, but who has never expressed any disappointment or displeasure for himself. promptly accepted the invitation. The conference will doubtless be very interesting. The Custom House and the Post Office are among the subjects that it might deal with. State Senator, Sloat Fassett returned from Washington yesterday and had a long talk with Mr. Platt. It was Senator Fassett who occupied Mr. Platt to was been at the Arlington in Washington, and not Warner Miller.

From Washington Mr. and Mrs. Platt will take a private car and visit Fernandina, Jacksonville, and St. Augustine, as well as the orange grove. Mrs. Platt will go provided with plates with which to continue the amateur photography with which she has made a pictorial journal of her more recent journeyings. She has n very interesting collection of views, but values most highly some taken on their farm in Orange county. Of these the most highly prized are the result of some snap shots taken at her husband while he was at work about the place. In one of them he is shown loading a wheelbarrow with stones, and three of the rocks are in the air, having been caught by the camera as they were falling, another shows him pushing a barrow load of stones. Mrs. Platt sars she thinks this one would be good to publish as an electioneering document if he was running for office; but Mr. Platt says that it would not help him with the larmers because he is whoeling too small a load. The imitations of the signatures in every case have been almost perfect. A few days ago Kengon cashed two drafts at Phemix. Ariz. Telegrams were sent out through Arizona advising the banks of the forgeries, but so far the man has been successful in keeping out of the clutches of the law. He is regarded as the most dangerous forger ever in this section. He is a man of fine address, and is very polite and affable. lection from the Commercial and Savings Bank
